Following a recent move to larger premises, East Anglia based, agriculture services company, CM Agriculture, chose UK manufacturer, Lee & Plumptre together with interiors specialist, Hussey Knights, to furnish its new offices.

Established in 2007, CM Agriculture has grown rapidly to offer a range of services to the poultry industry. The company is now a leading specialist in poultry handling, grading and vaccination as well as haulage. Sarah Rout, Furniture Specialist at East Anglian based, Hussey Knights explains: "Having outgrown its previous premises, CM Agriculture wanted to create a modern working environment which also reflected the company's corporate credentials and branding."

CM Agriculture's success has been built on its commitment to quality, professionalism and compliance standards. It was important that the office would reflect the Company's ethos and provide an efficient and attractive environment.

Lee & Plumptre's Atmosphere Executive panel desking was chosen for the managerial spaces with Satellite cantilever specified for the open plan areas. The upholstery for the desk mounted screens and seating – including mesh-backed task chairs as well meeting and visitor chairs - incorporated colour choices to reflect CM Agriculture's branding.
